The 2004 Middle School SPA Company presents

Director's Notes

This summer's Middle School SPA "Dream" theme had it's beginning with one song, "Any Dream Will Do" from Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. From that single song grew the idea of a whole show based on dreams from the Broadway stage. We invite you now to sit back, relax and dream with the likes of Tevye the milkman from Fiddler on the Roof as he dreams of riches in "If I Were a Rich Man." West Side Story's Tony and Maria sing "Somewhere" dreaming of a time and place in which they will be free to love, free of outside forces trying to tear them apart. We dance to "Buffalo Nickel" from Ragtime where Tateh, a recent immigrant, dreams of success in America. Freedom is the dream of Jim the slave in Big River, the musical version of Huckleberry Finn. He sings about this freedom in a beautiful gospel style in "Waitin' for the Light to Shine." These are just few examples of the many dreams found in the songs sung and the dances danced in our show tonight. We throw in a few middle school nightmares like those from the cafeteria and from the dance at the gym to complete the range of dreams we experience in life. Our cast has dared to dream big this summer and they have grown immensely as performers and we hope as individuals through their most recent SPA experience. Dare to dream with us in tonight's performance.
